

I am concerned about the possible further consolodation of media ownership. There is already too much standardization in radio broadcasting as well as in the print media. This trend does not serve the public interest; it only serves the financial interests of the corporate world.